

A photograph of a charming outdoor courtyard at night. In the center, a fire pit with a tripod stand holds a fire. To the left, a hanging chair with a white fur cushion is positioned next to a large vase of flowers. To the right, another hanging chair with a brown fur cushion is visible. The background features a building with large windows and doors, some of which are covered in climbing plants. Warm, golden light emanates from the building's interior, creating a cozy atmosphere. Various potted plants and a small table with a lamp are also visible in the scene.
