

WHO ARE WE

Since 1982, Bourgonje has been a specialist in complete audiovisual solutions. From events and conferences to television productions and permanent installations: with expertise in lighting, sound and video, the latest technology and a dedicated team, we deliver productions our clients can rely on.

HOW DO WE WORK

A successful event starts with thorough preparation. That is why every project begins with an assessment of the location and your requirements. We explore the technical possibilities, carefully align the production approach and make clear agreements regarding preparation, execution and dismantling.

Throughout the entire process, a dedicated account manager or project manager is available as your point of contact. We ensure clear communication with all parties involved, from the initial preparations through to the final delivery.

In addition, all employees working on-site hold a valid First Aid and Emergency Response (BHV) certificate. This enables us to provide our clients with assurance, reliability and continuity.

SUSTAINABILITY

At Bourgonje, we combine quality with sustainability. We choose solutions that are not only technically advanced, but also make responsible use of energy, materials and resources throughout their lifespan.

Through smart use of our equipment, reuse, efficient logistics and an electric fleet, we reduce our environmental impact. With our solar panels and GSES monitoring, we measure and track our CO₂ emissions, allowing us to continuously improve and further advance our sustainability efforts.

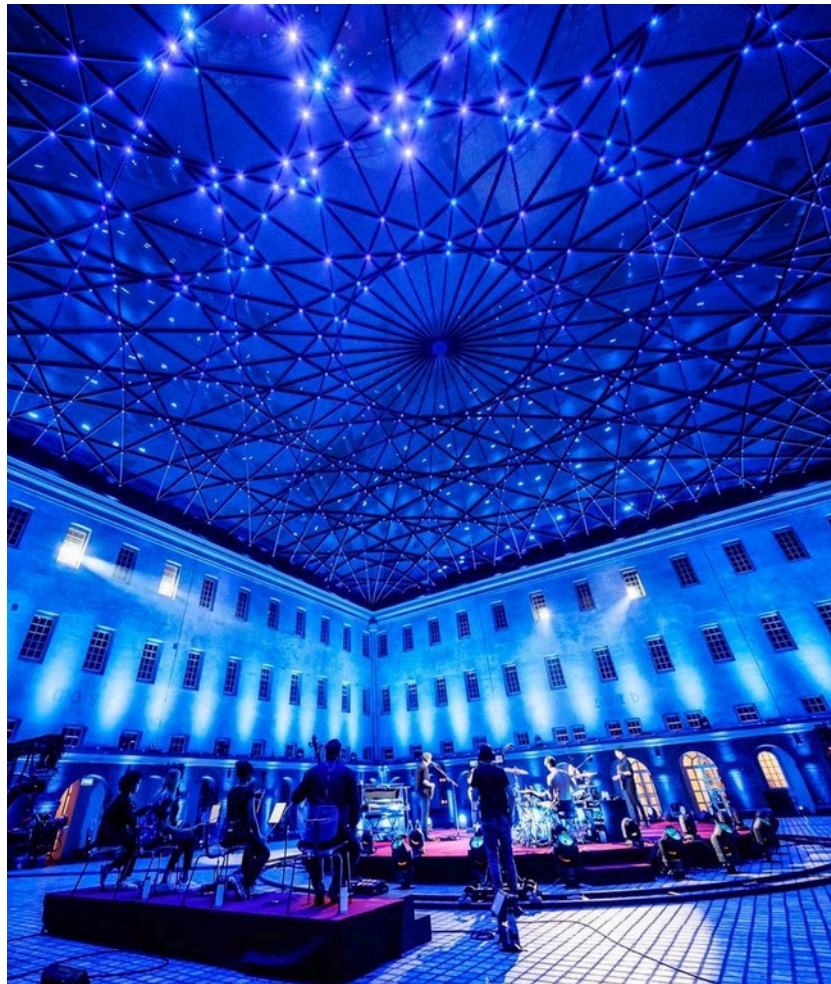

WHAT DO WE DO

Bourgonje delivers complete audiovisual productions and installations for conferences, events, exhibitions, television productions, corporate presentations and special occasions.

From sound, lighting and video to interpretation technology, video direction, livestreaming and innovative AV solutions: we bring all technology together in one reliable, integrated solution. Our experienced specialists are involved from the very first idea, advising on the right technical approach and taking care of design, planning, installation, execution and on-site support.

In addition, we design and deliver permanent and temporary AV and lighting installations that are user-friendly, flexible and future-proof.

With over 40 years of experience, we know that technology only truly comes to life through the people behind it. That is why our professionals combine technology, creativity and expertise to take productions and venues to the next level.
